A BOY'S FRIGHTFUL DEATH

DRAGGED BY A HORSE OVER STONES AND RIDGES.

Thrown from His Mount His Foot Caught in the Stirrup—Life Passed Out in Agony.

PAIA, Maui, February 2.—A very sad and distressing accident occurred in Makawao on Monday last, when the ten year old son of James Alana, met his death in a most frightful manner. He had gone out before breakfast, horseback, to drive up some horses and not returning to breakfast, his mother went to look for him, and found him in his saddle, dragged along the ground, but still alive. Almost crazed she ran screaming to her husband who went out and carried the boy down to the house, but when they reached the same the poor little fellow was dead. Eyewitnesses showed that the horse must have bolted, and running under a palm bush brushed the boy off, his foot catching in the stirrup as he fell, and the horse thereafter dashed round and round dragging the little fellow over stones and ridges, bruising him up in a most dreadful manner. The funeral took place on Tuesday from the Catholic church, Makawao.

THE BOY EMPEROR.

One of Four from Whom Selection was Made.

Leung Chi-tso says he has been somewhat misunderstood as to what he knows about Put Sing the supposed new emperor. Put Sing, he says belongs to the Imperial family, through his father has never held important official position. Put Sing is one of four children who were brought to the Palace a year or more ago, at which time it was understood that the Dowager Empress would select one of them as the successor of the Emperor Kwang Su. He is a nine year old child, who at the present time speaks only the manchu language and not the Chinese. Mr. Leung disclaims being an organizer of the Chinese Empire Reform Association, the organization having been effected before he came. Nor does he propose to interfere in any way with the politics of China. He is a traveler, seeking the education and liberalizing effects of travel. There is no antagonism between himself and Dr. Sun Yet Sin.

PLAGUE DEATHS AND CASES

BAD RECORD IN THE PAST TWO DAYS.

One Case Today and Two Yesterday. Mr. Robertson Dies of Plague—Native is Stricken.

There has been one suspect plague case today. The patient is Koali, Hawaiian man, aged 30, from the kerosene detention camp. He went to the camp in one of the last lots, at the time of the big fire, and came from near the corner of King and Kekaulike streets. Dr. Bowman adjudged the case as suspicious and asked the Board of Health for a consulting physician. Dr. Hoffman went down and agreed that the case was one of plague. The patient was sent to the pest house where he is now under treatment. Superintendent Atkinson expected to release 723 people from the camp today. Just what effect the new case will have is not known, as it is a matter for the Board of Health to consider this afternoon. However, as the people to be released were in separate corrals it is not likely that they will be stopped. It is understood from the camp, however, that not over half of the people will accept the chance to go as they have no homes and no places to stay. They will be allowed to remain until they can make arrangements. When this batch is gone only about 450 people will remain at the kerosene camp.

A case of plague was taken from the Kailhi camp yesterday afternoon to Kakaako. The patient's name is Kekau, a Japanese. When examined his temperature was 104 and pulse 130. Dr. Howard and Garvin both considered the case very suspicious. Frank de Mello, Portuguese, living a short way up Pauao valley, has been under surveillance since yesterday evening. Dr. Peterson considered the case suspicious and established a guard. This morning he found the door barred and was told that he could not enter. In response to a telephone message Dr. Wood, President of the Board of Health, instructed Dr. Peterson to summon a policeman and break the door if necessary to gain admittance. Fortunately hardness was not necessary. This afternoon the case is not considered very suspicious. Temperature 102 1/2; pulse 70; inguinal bubo, small.

Mr. Weir Robertson died at the pest house in Kakaako about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon of plague. The forenoon he was reported better and at 12 was thought to be no worse. The first examination in the afternoon, however, revealed more serious symptoms. At the hour stated the patient sank rapidly and he died at the hour stated. The body was removed to the morgue where an autopsy was held at 9 o'clock last night in the presence of several physicians, among whom was Dr. Carmichael, of the United States Marine hospital service.

The death of Mr. Robertson was a great disappointment to the Board of Health and produced considerable annoyance in the community. It was the first patient upon which the plague serum had been tried. The result was satisfactory. The post mortem showed, however, that Mr. Robertson's case was a very bad one and he was probably too far gone when taken in hand.

Mr. Robertson was employed at the Waterhouse store of Henry May & Co. in Bethel street at a salary of $100 a month. He sent $20 of this to his sick wife in a hospital in California. Two little sons in Bishop Willis' school cost $200 a year more, leaving $400 a year for the support of himself and daughter, aged 14. A year of this strain had impaired his constitution notably and left him an easy prey to disease.

Mrs. Robertson is a daughter of the late George Emmes and a sister of Mrs. John Cassidy.

Gee Mui, Chinese girl baby, aged one year, died in one of the detention houses at Kailhi yesterday afternoon of plague. The child had been sick about a day. There was no doctor until after death. The body was brought to the morgue where an autopsy was held last night. Gee Mui was the little daughter of Ah Chuck, the Hotel street restaurateur. The family lived at one time on Pauao street below Smith, but about the time of the big fire moved into one of the buildings facing Kukui street which was not destroyed. There they were found and sent to Kailhi. At the camp the family occupy a special house set apart for those who wish to pay the additional expense.

Saturday afternoon Dr. Garvin returned a verdict that Wong Chin, the man from the Pantheon stables who died at the Chinese pest hospital in Palama, had the plague. There was an unmistakable showing of bacilli in the cultures made.

MEMBER FROM CALIFORNIA

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO BEING DRUNK.

But Does Not Plead His Exemption From Arrest During Session of the Legislature—Fined $2.

The member from California pleaded not guilty before Judge Wilcox, but did not plead his privilege from arrest during the session of the legislature. His name is Emil Nye, and like his famous namesake Bill Nye, who was once a Justice of Peace in Wyoming, he claimed long acquaintance with courts, in addition to being a member of the California legislature, the one now in session to elect a United States Senator.

The Honorable Emil Nye was charged with being drunk and creating a good deal of noise at Emma and Beretania streets early Sunday morning, in addition to stopping a milkman and a man on a bicycle.

He stood in his blue overalls in the witness box and made quite a speech in his own defense. He claimed that he had been held up in the dark but had escaped robbery by his own efforts, and had stopped the milkman and the bicycle rider to get their help to apprehend the highway man. He admitted having had a few drinks but argued that for the he was being drunk in the gutter that gave no one a right to rob him; also that he could not have been drunk or the police would have been obliged to keep him in a cell longer than three hours to sober up.

He had resigned a position at San Quentin, he said, to come here on an invitation to accept a position in the custom house. But somehow, although he had seen President Dole and the Collector-General, he had not gotten the position.

Judge Wilcox fined him $2 and costs, the regular amount for an "ordinary" drunk. He failed to find anything extraordinary in the fact that Honolulu liquor, drunk in quantity, made a California legislator or a man acquainted with courts, drunk. In fact from a long series of observations he had come to the conclusion that such was the ordinary effect of it. He thought it might be a matter of regret to the member from California that he was not able to be present at the present session of the California legislature called to elect a United States senator.

TO EXTEND SEWERAGE

The Cabinet this morning decided to immediately extend the sewerage to Wyllie street and Punahou, in compliance with a resolution of the Board of Health passed on Saturday. Minister Young was instructed to at once invite tenders here and on the mainland for the work. Advertisements will go forward to the coast by the next mail.

At the meeting this morning President Dole read the resolution of the Board of Health in regard to burning the goods in warehouse at Aala. The President suggested an amendment declaring the goods perishable, already injured, liable to spoil and deleterious to the public health.

CAPTURED PET RATS.

Manager Lucas, Hawaiian Hotel, Catches a Pair.

As a rat catcher Manager Lucas, of the Hawaiian hotel, will not accept a second ribbon.

When plague broke out, as is probably generally known, there was a quiet war on rats all over Honolulu. Traps, good, bad and indifferent, were taken out in every household and baited with the cheese which was the "pet" set two traps. Nothing happened, the traps remaining empty until they had been almost forgotten about.

Last week Mr. Lucas examined one of his traps, and found therein in a beautiful white rat with pink eyes. In place of getting frightened and struggling to escape the little animal made directly for the hotel manager and acted in the most friendly and trusting manner. When turned out of the cage it climbed up Mr. Lucas' trousers and took a comfortable seat on his arm. The rat plainly showed itself to be a well-tamed pet.

Next day the other trap made a capture. This was a pied mouse, an exceedingly pretty as well as uncommon animal. This little fellow also refused to leave, seeming perfectly tame and at play as a kitten.

Mr. Lucas is quite sure he has captured someone's pets. The animals await a claimant at the hotel.

SYMPATHETIC MAGISTRATE.

"Yes, I was drunk, your honor," the prisoner said, "but I've been pretty well punished already. I had $60 when I went out on the street, and a lot of gamblers got hold of men and swindled me out of $38."

"Under those circumstances," remarked his honor, with a sympathetic cough, "the court is disposed to be lenient with you. The fine will be $2."

AN EDITOR'S LIFE SAVED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. THE TOTS IN QUARANTINE

HOW THEY ARE KEPT WELL AND HAPPY.

Mrs. Dole sends a Generous Supply of Material for Baby Clothes—Music Boxes and Toys.

Battery camp is indebted to Mrs. Dole and the ladies of Hawaii for a generous supply of material for clothing. Seven Hawaiian women are kept busy in the sewing room. The material is rapidly being metamorphosed into beautiful baby clothes, and warm holokus. These are in constant demand.

There are about thirty children in camp. It requires constant attention to keep them well-fed and comfortably clothed. A music box, donated by H. S. Townsend, and some toys sent by Rev. G. L. Pearson, have added greatly to the enjoyment of the little people. It is no easy task to keep children in quarantine well and happy.

Fourteen Hawaiians were released from Battery Camp on Saturday. With them went T. U. Kalo, one of the best general helpers. Sunday one Frenchman, one Hawaiian, fifty-three Chinese, and fourteen Japanese were released, among them being S. Wakita, Dr. Oskawa's boy, who for the past week has attended to the wants of his people at Battery Camp.

Some of the most useful articles sent to Battery camp are pillow cases. Since acknowledging their receipt through the courtesy of The Star, the camp has learned that it is indebted to Mr. Girdler, Mrs. Albert Lucas, and Mrs. McEwen for material. The pillow cases have been used all along the line, the pest house utilizing its share.

BERT PETERSON.

D. Howard Adams received a letter from Bert Peterson from Apia by the Alameda. Peterson was in the best of spirits and hopeful of the big scheme he has in mind. He expected to leave the yacht in the colonies and proceed at once to Europe. He said the next letter from him would be from London or New York.

MUST FUMIGATE AGAIN.

The Nuanu street store of Wing Wo Tai and company was fumigated from Saturday afternoon till this morning, but it will all have to be done over again. The store was opened this morning and inspected by Professor Ingalls. He found some cockroaches alive, though there were many dead ones, and according to the instructions that if anything remains alive after the fumigation another dose must be given, he ordered the work repeated.

MAKAWAO CHURCH.

MAKAWAO, February 2.—The Rev. Mr. Jones, of Chico California, will occupy the pulpit of the Makawao Foreign church on Sunday next.

AN OCEAN TRAGEDY.

A Dog's Long Swim That Was in Vain.

Just before the bark Iolani was towed from her anchorage outside by the steamer Helene, a dog jumped or was thrown overboard from the bark. The animal was about three miles out, but the animal turned his head shorewards and started on the long swim to land. He was passed going through the channel by boarding officer Scanlan of the custom house, who wanted to pick the brute up, but could not stop. The dog soon arrived at the Pacific Mail wharf, thoroughly exhausted, and could not make a landing. He swam to the piles and his strength gave out. The dog was drowned and his body floated out the channel through which he had just struggled.

PEOPLE OF MAUI PROVIDE

LADIES MET TO SEW FOR THE REFUGEES.

Sewing Bees at Spreckelsville, Makawao and other places—H. P. Baldwin sends a Big Donation of Produce.

SPRECKELSVILLE, February 2.—The ladies of Spreckelsville have met together every day of this week and sewed for the unfortunates of Honolulu On Tuesday next the ladies of Makawao will meet at the house of Mrs. D. C. Lindsay, Paia, and spend the entire day sewing and putting together articles of wearing apparel for the burned out people.

H. P. Baldwin is this week sending down all the potatoes, taro and other produce he could gather together, as a donation to the needs of the same unfortunates. So Maui expresses her sympathy for the hapless people.

LAHAINA, February 4.—Some of the ladies of Lahaina have been collecting clothing, and in some instances coin, to assist those in Honolulu who lost their all in the great fire.

The first lot was forwarded to the President of the Board of Health last evening, by the Iwaland, and more will be sent soon.

All who were asked to assist responded liberally, especially the Hawaiians and the Chinese.

Mrs. Makalua has been very active and successful in soliciting aid among the Hawaiian portion of the community. The names of the donors are too numerous to mention.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Falls, Bruises, Kicks, Scalds and Crushing in Kohala.

KOHALA, February 3.—There has been a series of accidents on Kohala plantation the last week. One Jap fell down the shaft, a heavy stone grazed and bruised another, while he was going down the shaft, and still another was kicked in the mouth by a mule. None of the accidents have proved fatal so far.

A little two year old child, half Chinese, at Niihi was severely scalded with hot water a few days ago. The parents made applications of poi and the child seems to be improving.

A three year old Japanese child at Union Mill had its hand so badly cut by the wheel of a trash car that the hand had to be amputated. A Chiu's boy in celebration of the Chinese New Year.

DRILL SHED CAMP.

Tomorrow morning the band will enter the detention camp at the drill shed and give a concert for the benefit of the people confined there. This will be repeated each morning until the camp is cleared. On Thursday morning the Japanese there will be released. The Chinese will be allowed to go Saturday morning.

STREET'S CARS AGAIN.

Street cars resumed traffic about 10 o'clock this morning. The start was made from both ends of the line, though Beretania street was the first to get the service. The cars have all been carefully scrubbed and disinfected, and are apparently in a sanitary condition. They will be cleaned thoroughly every day.

ANOTHER FIRE PROJECTED

PORTION OF MECHANIC'S HOME CONDEMNED.

Will Likely Be Burned Tomorrow by Orders of Board of Health—About the Pantheon Corner.

A large portion of the Mechanic's home will be burned as soon as it can be gotten ready. This has been fully decided upon by the Board of Health. The fire will probably take place tomorrow.

Five cottages of the home will go up in smoke. The first one is the building occupied by Louis Marks as a stable for his water carts and teams. There is one eight room cottage and three smaller ones, one of which is the office building. Both of the buildings on the main side of the Nuanu street entrance will be burned. The district to be burned will be all that on the Ewa side of the Hotel street entrance and the two cottages mentioned on the other side.

A big gang of workmen is engaged today cleaning and fumigating in and about the Pantheon saloon and stables. Prof. Ingalls has charge of the interior work. Workmen under Mr. Ables are making the exterior improvements. All of the flooring under the former hack stand at the corner is being torn up. The ground beneath will be treated with a heavy solution of sulphuric acid, which a new floor will be laid. All partially decayed portions of the building are also being repaired.

"You may say that I am perfectly satisfied with the action of the Board of Health," said Mr. Ables. "As you know I have control here and I will say for all interested that the Board of Health has done its duty up to the limit and has not exceeded it. Of course the orders of the Board will cost us considerable money in the way of repairs and loss of business, but the Board has done its duty to the community in the precautions taken. I hope when we lay a new floor that the hack stand will be allowed to resume business, but I do not know yet what will be done."

John Sullivan, proprietor of the Pantheon stables, said: "I object to the statement in the press that the Chinaman, Ah Man, slept in our stables. The facts are he slept for a time in the upper story of the building at the Hotel street entrance to the premises, the greater portion of which was occupied by Mr. Dodd. The man had nothing to do with the stables, was never in here to my knowledge and I do not see why the thing should be 'saddled' on the stables. My belief is that he was not on the Dodd premises in some days prior to his fatal illness."

QUARANTINE ISLAND CLEAR.

Quarantine Island is once more clear of immigrants. This morning all the guards were withdrawn, leaving only the keeper and Japanese interpreter on the island. There are six Chinese and sixteen Japanese on the island who will be returned to the Orient. They were rejected for health reasons.
